I AM THE ORANGE LINE.
MY BEGINNING WAS LONG AGO.
I HAVE NO END.
I AM PERPETUAL.
MY SOURCE IS IN THE
WEST VIRGINIA HILLS.
MY REACH
EMBRACES THE WORLD.
I AM IN AMERICA'S SMALL TOWNS.
I AM IN HER GREAT CITIES.
I CROSS THE SEAS.
I GROW.
I AM YOUR WARM, ENDURING MEMORIES.
I AM YOUR SHARED EXPERIENCES.
I AM YOUR FRIENDS, YOUR TEACHERS.
I AM YOUR LINK TO THE PAST.
I AM YOUR DREAMS FOR THE FUTURE.
WHEREVER YOU ARE, THERE TOO, AM I.
I AM YOU.
YOU ARE ME.
WE — ARE THE ORANGE LINE.

BY CHARLES K. DICK

Honorary Degree Candidate for the Degree Doctor of Humane Letters

Caroline H. Rapking

Ms. Caroline H. Rapking retired as Vice President for the Global Public Sector for CGI, with over 30 years of experience with the company. CGI, one of the largest information technology companies in the world, provides secure and flexible end-to-end services include strategic IT and business consulting, systems integration, IT managed services, and intellectual property solutions. Prior to taking the lead for the Global Public Sector activities, she was the lead of the U.S. State and Local Industry group. Ms. Rapking's mission in both positions was to develop and lead CGI's go-to-market strategy for the Public Sector, in order to generate growth for CGI and deliver quality solutions and services for CGI's clients in this market.

Since joining CGI in January 1983, Ms. Rapking worked exclusively with many of CGI's largest government clients (over 30) in designing and implementing technology and business solutions to transform government management and service delivery. In addition to her work with project delivery and market strategy, Ms. Rapking was also heavily involved in the effort to locate the CGI Center of Excellence in Software Development in Russell County (Virginia), which has resulted in over 500 new jobs located in that rural area.

In 2010, Ms. Rapking was appointed to the Board of Trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan College and has served as Chair since July 2020. She has also served as Chair of the Capital Campaign, Chair of the Advancement Council, Co-Chair of the Presidential Search Committee, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Board.

From 2007—2014, Ms. Rapking served on the Board of the Virginia Community College Foundation for Education, including a term as Treasurer, and has been a member of the selection committee for the prestigious Valley Protein Scholars program.

She also served on the Maxwell School Advisory Board of Syracuse University for 21 years and was a member of the DC Presence Committee, which helped search for and determine the remote campus location for the Maxwell School in Washington, DC.

Ms. Rapking's community and industry involvement has included business and industry trade associations, and health-related associations. She was a member of the National Capital Area Corporate Council of the American Cancer Society, and served on the Board for the child advocacy entity Voices for Virginia's Children. She has been active in the following public sector professional organizations and boards: TechAmerica (formerly ITAA) as Chair of the State and Local Board of Directors; National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers, and Treasurers (NASACT), and the National Association of State Chief Information Officers (NASCIO).

Ms. Rapking was a member of the Board of Directors of Nextel Partners, Inc., a Fortune 1000 Company and an affiliate of Nextel Communications. She served on the Audit Committee and Special Committee and was Chair of the Nominating Committee. She joined the Nextel Partners Board in July 2002, and left the Board in July 2006 when Sprint/Nextel bought Nextel Partners and the Board was dissolved.

Ms. Rapking is a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College (1979, B.A.) and of the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs of Syracuse University (1982) where she earned her M.P.A.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

Academic processions are rich in tradition and pageantry. Some elements of the procession are common to all institutions of higher education, guided by centuries of protocol, and others are unique to individual institutions, symbolizing meaningful and specific college traditions.

At West Virginia Wesleyan College, the procession is led by a cross reflecting the College's Methodist heritage. The cross bearer this year is Dr. Caleb Gibson, Assistant Professor of Chemistry.

Next in the procession is the mace bearer, Dr. Susan Rice, Associate Professor of Health Science.

Today's head marshal is Dr. Joseph Wiest, Professor of Physics. He is assisted by Dr. Pamela Wovchko, Professor of Mathematics; Dr. Edward Wovchko, Professor of Chemistry; Ms. Alisa Lively, Dean of Students; Mr. Doug Van Gundy, Associate Professor of English; Dr. Jessica Scott, Associate Professor of Gender Studies; and Dr. Luke Huggins, Professor of Biology.

The Class of 2023 is led by officers Caroline Fulks, President; Madisyn Fox, Vice President; Dylan Pauley, Secretary and Abigail O'Shields, Treasurer.

Academic Attire

Academic attire – cap, gown, and hood – is higher education's link with its long and illustrious past. Like judicial dress, it originated in the 12th century with the medieval clergy, whose ecclesiastical dress probably derived in turn from civilian attire at an earlier age. Medieval scholars were almost all clergymen, and the earliest illustrations available show gowns that somewhat resemble cassocks. Universities of the period were primarily education guilds, the term "bachelor" denoting an apprentice, "master," a full member of the guild, and "doctor," one who has attained the highest degree of learning in a particular field.

Originally, the titles of "doctor," "master," and "professor" were synonymous, meaning one who has a license to teach. By the 14th century, however, "doctor" had acquired a higher status and was used by professional faculties of law, theology, and medicine, while teachers in the faculties of the arts were known as "master." The first stage of candidacy for either level was the baccalaureate of "bachelor," and the successive steps were called grades or "degrees."

In the United States, academic attire began to be used extensively at the end of the 19th century. To avoid confusion, the Intercollegiate Commission drew up a code in 1895 for academic attire. Followed by virtually all American institutions of higher learning, it has given America a beautiful and impressive, yet extremely simple method of signifying academic honors.

The bachelor's gown is black and worn closed, distinguished by its long, pointed sleeves; the master's is designated to be worn open and has long sleeves with square base and arc cut; the doctor's, worn open or closed, has velvet panels down the front and three bars on the round, full sleeve. The color of the velvet may signify the field of study.

The hood is the most distinguishing feature of academic attire. Its colors indicate both the degree of the wearer and the institution attended. The bachelor's and the master's hoods are similar in design, but the bachelor's is three feet long while the master's is three and a half feet long. The colors of the silk lining exposed in the center of the hood are those of the institution conferring the degree, for example, orange and black for West Virginia Wesleyan; the edging of the hood indicates the academic discipline.

Since the hood no longer serves as a head covering, the mortarboard, which originated in English universities, is worn. A long tassel of black or of a color appropriate to the degree is fastened in the middle of the top of the cap. The doctor's cap may have a gold tassel. Recently, soft velvet tams have become popular for holders of advanced degrees.

Academic attire serves two purposes; it gives a sense of dignity and tradition to the ceremony, and it links those who wear it, students and faculty, to all the men and women who, over the past centuries, have sought learning.
